I Now Enjoy The Best of Health

Mr. Wm. W. Every, 3225 North Hancock Street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"I have been troubled with stomach disorders since childhood, but after taking six bottles of your Peruna, I now enjoy the best of health. I also had catarrh in the head, which practically has disappeared, thanks to the Peruna Co. for their good work."

Those who object to liquid medicines can procure Peruna Tablets.

THE PINTO BEAN.

There is no staple crop adapted to the Southwest, for which an increasing demand is coming so rapidly as pinto beans, according to H. M. Bainer, agricultural and industrial agent of the Santa Fe railroad, and special agent of the United States food administration. Mr. Bainer is urging the farmers to increase their acreage of pinto beans, because they are a non perishable crop for either dry or irrigation farming.

"Pintos represent food in a condensed form which easily can be transported to our large marketing centers or to our armies or our navies," he said. "Nothing we produce represents more food value than a given quantity of beans. Noth ing we grow is needed more for food than beans. The farmer who raises beans is fully as patriotic as the one who raises wheat, corn or potatoes. Pintos are a sort of patriotic crop anyway; they will produce with a limited amount of moisture; they are a good cash crop, and they leave the soil in better condition for the crops that are to follow."

The fact that the United States Food Administration has bought and resold more than 600 cars of pinto beans, approximately 50,000,000 pounds, of the 1917 yield, and actually shipped them to such marketing centers as Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Kansas City, makes the future of this valuable crop that much more certain. In addition to supplying the marketing centers named, the food administration has just exported fifty cars, 4,000,000 pounds, of pinto beans to France for use of the Allies. Is there any wonder pinto beans are becoming popular? With all of this increased demand, a greater acreage is justifiable.

THE DAYLIGHT SAVING.

The new daylight saving idea was certainly a wonderful scheme. Since it went into effect more folks here become acquainted with the early morning hours than ever before. And they have pretty generally found that it was a very nice part of the day, too.

It hasn't made much difference with the farmer for he gets up in time to pass himself going to bed anyway in the summer time, but these case-loving town folks have had quite a time getting used to the new schedule.

It is particularly bad on the people in this immediate section where we are so close to the change of time. Our time was already ahead of itself and now that we have tacked another hour onto it we get up by candle light and have a full day of daylight after supper. That gives everybody ample time to cultivate a good sized war garden and the householder who doesn't improve the opportunity is not heeding the suggestions of the Government for increasing the food supply.—Southwest Plainman.

A farmer at Lone Wolfe, Okla. was required by the government to sell his wheat. He had two crops stored. Then he purchased $500 worth of war saving certificates. Returning home he went out to his empty granary and killed himself.

W. A. Rodgers was a visitor at Camp Travis last week to see his son, who is in the service there.

VIOLATORS OF THE FOOD REGULATIONS

People who think the Federal Food Administration will not call them to account for violating food regulations might try it and find out. His flour mills got their license revoked—some because of excessive charges for out put and some because they failed to produce a barrel of flour from a given quantity of wheat.

One North Carolina mill undertook to operate without license. A mill at Adams, Tennessee admitted violations and has been closed and a fruit company in Connecticut had to close because it failed to accept a shipment of potatoes. A milling concern at Chaska, Minn. disregarded the 20-50 rule and the limited sales rule has been closed down.

CALOMEL SALVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like Dynamite on a Sluggish Liver and You Lose a Day's Work.

There is no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating Calomel when 50c buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can't salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tonic because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty Calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue, or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than horrible Calomel your money is waiting for you. 13

SCURRY LAND.

(Tune of "Texas Land.")
I've reached the land of corn and wheat.

Of pumpkin pie and "later sweet," I got my land from Uncle Sam.

And now I'm happy as a clam.

Chorus:
Oh, Scurry land, sweet Scurry land.

As on my dugout roof I stand.

I look away across the plains

And watch the coming schooner trains.

And then I turn to view my corn:

I vow I'll never sell this farm.

My horses are of Norman stock.

My chickens, too, are Plymouth rock.

My sheep they are all very fine.

And China breed are all my swine.

The farmer goes into his corn,

And there he stands and looks alarm ed;

The corn so thick he can hardly walk,

And big ears hang on every stalk.

When I came here to get my start

My neighbors they were miles apart.

But now there's one on every claim

And sometimes three all want the same.

SECOND PARODY

I've reached the land of drouth and wheat.

Where nothing grows for man to eat;

There shines for him no brighter day.

For all his wealth has passed away.

Oh, Scurry land, sweet Scurry land.

As on her blowing sand I stand.

I look away across the plains

And wonder why it never rains:

Then Gabriel roars with trumpet sound,

And says the rain has passed around.

We have no wheat, we have no oats.

We have no corn to feed our shoats.

Our chickens are too poor to eat.

Our pigs go squealing down the street.

Our horses are of broncho race.

Starvation stares them in the face.

We do not live, we only stay.

For we're too poor to get away.

The farmer goes into his corn,

And there he stands and looks around.

His throats so dry he almost chokes.

To see the shoats have missed the stalks.

MURDER OF MISS EVELYN MOUNTS NEAR SLATON

Slaton, Slatonite.—Jenna Teal of the Woodrow community several miles west of Slaton, accused of murdering Miss Evelyn Mounts a school teacher, on April 7th, 1918, is still at large and the officers have not apprehended him. Slaton citizens who were in pastures of the V ranch northeast of Slaton last Wednesday report that they met and talked with Teal who was then dodging the officers. They seemed to think he was making his way thru the broken country of the Cap Rocks to Ford county.

The report of the homicide as given in the Littlefield News makes it look like the act of a degenerate. Miss Mounts was teaching at Slaton. Teal wanted to marry her and she didn't care for his attentions, and refused his proffer of marriage. She boarded at the McCarty home at Slaton, and went to the Mumford home to visit over Sunday. Teal went after her Saturday evening, telling her that he had a message from her sister at Dimmitt who was very sick and told her to come to her at once. After they left the Mumford home he told her of the deception and began to abuse her. She jumped out of the car, but he begged her to get back in as he could not return without her.

They returned to the Mumford home and she told the family of the incident. Sunday evening they started for the McCarty home. Miss Mounts taking a little girl along with her. At the McCarty home, the little girl got out of the car first and had run up to the house when she heard a scream and a gun shot, and turned around in time to hear another shot and see the girl fall on her face, and heard her groan.

Teal told the little girl to give the alarm that he had killed Miss Mounts and to wire his brother at Lubbock that he would find him dead. She told the man to write the message as she could not remember it. He calmly wrote the message and as the girl started off with it she saw him standing over the body of Miss Evelyn and heard another shot. That was the last seen of Teal. Miss Mounts was shot once in the breast and once in the head.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Chiropractic authority tells how to dress up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before says this Chiropractic authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus is loosened and can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time. 63

HADN'T FORGOTTEN HOW TO THROW THE ROPE

The incident described in the following from Trench and Camp, Army Y. M. C. A. newspaper, occurred while Dr. Landrith was making a patriotic speaking tour of the soldier camps. Camp Stanley is near San Antonio, Texas, and is of particular interest here because Dr. Landrith comes here to speak at the Chautauqua.

Too Big to Hide, But.

"If you want to pick a regular fight go out to the Camp Stanley re-mount station and say something against Dr. Ira Landrith, the noted lecturer and late candidate for vice-president on the prohibition ticket, who spent a few days of last week visiting the various camps around San Antonio.

Dr. Landrith had witnessed the expert riding of the boys at the re-mount station, and pronounced it good. Then, after it was all over, one of the officers suggested that ten or a dozen of the wildest horses in the camp be rounded into the corral for an exhibition of lassoing.

From a vantage point on the corral fence, Dr. Landrith watched one of the boys make repeated attempts to rope a certain wiry pony answering the euphonious title of "Tad." He had just stooped to pick up the rope when he was seized by the back of the head and held by the back of the head.

Landrith's eyes glinted, he ed his lips gently, looked shyly about him and slid off the fence.

"Say, friend o'mine, let me have the rope a minute," he said to one of the khaki-clad boys near by.

After a few swift swings of the rope the lecturer let his good right arm shoot out and like an arrow the tiny strand sailed through the air, out through the dusty fog, over the heads of the ponies in between, and settled gracefully about the intended victim of the preacher's aim. The job could not have been cleaner, more quickly or more neatly done.

"Who me? I guess it wasn't an accident," Landrith replied to a soldier's question, "you see I spent just twenty-one years on a ranch, and while I'm too big to ride, I haven't forgotten how to swing a rope."

A soldier is always ready to "hand it to" the man who knows.

Mr. Ferguson, in his speeches belittles the work of scientific learning. If he had found Edison fooling away his time with pieces of wire and fuses and bottles of fluids he would have him fired. A man who has no conception of scientific research is not in position to appreciate its value. There have been people who could see no need of children learning to read, because they had gotten thru very well without any book learning.

About all the average reader can keep fixed in mind about the war is that it is a life and death struggle. If the allied forces can hold Germany in check for a few days more, the war will be won. Germany is making his supreme effort.
